

JAMES CORWIN JOHNSON'S

Magic of the Maya

James Corwin Johnson Photography & Photo Experience announce their first Photo Destination Journey into the mysterious Yucatan Peninsula for "The 2010 Magic of the Maya tour!" Mr. Johnson's fascination with the Mayan culture began in the 1970s while he was staff photographer for Club Med Playa Blanca. While he was on assignment in Tulum last year, he was reminded of the incredible photographic opportunities this part of Mexico has to offer and, so this tour was created.

Whether you are a seasoned pro or just learning digital imaging, this 8-day/7-night trip includes a magnificent menu of expert photo and HD Video-DSLR filming opportunities that will give you stunning images and footage, sure to garner you award winning shots.

Our special event tour offers you great photographic opportunities of the temples and surrounding areas. We'll have the opportunity to photograph the Mayan people in native costumes, and we'll also do night shoots with cinematic lighting of the temples.

CHICHEN ITZA EXCURSION

One of the wonders of the modern world, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the highlights on this trip. We have arranged travel to Chichen Itza as a guided day tour, arriving at this amazing place before the crush of tourist buses. We will have the opportunity to walk the grounds and take photos without tourists interfering with our pictures. There will be an evening light show as well.

TULUM and COBA

Tulum is built on a bluff overlooking the azure blue Caribbean Ocean providing another opportunity to take spectacular photos. Coba is situated by four natural lakes, a rare sight in the Yucatan. It is also not as excavated as Chichen Itza or Tulum. The area also boasts many blue morpho butterflies and tropical birds that are a photographic bonus.

XCARET PARK ADVENTURES

Xcaret Ecological Park offers countless opportunities to photograph Mayan dancers, colorful birds, native animals and much more. You can float down an underground river with fresh sparkling spring-fed waters. There's tubing, swimming with dolphins and more to enjoy and photograph on this special day.

YAL KU LAGOON

Yal Ku Lagoon is one of the best kept secrets in the Riviera Maya: an inlet from the Caribbean, it has some of the most colorful fish this side of the South Pacific. Because it is a lagoon, the water is very calm and shallow so it is an excellent place for even the first-time snorkeler to enjoy the magic below the water's surface. (Rental of scuba or snorkeling equipment not included.)

James Corwin Johnson

The entire trip will be headed by James Corwin Johnson who will be providing expert and extraordinary photography lessons, tips and ad hoc advice to each of the participants. James has been a professional photographer for over 25 years and brings a wealth of knowledge, expertise and down-to-earth practical advice that will surely benefit both the novice and the professional. In addition, James lived in Mexico during the 1970s when many of the ancient cities were being rediscovered. His images of this magical realm began to reflect the emotion felt for this special place. James is delighted to be offering this experience to fellow photographers. Take your photographic skills to the next level with James' expert advice and instruction.
