Join James Corwin Johnson for a magical visit back to his Yosemite home, for what he considers the best time of year for guaranteed photographic results. In May, the cycle of the moon falls early in the month, giving us an excellent opportunity to enjoy the water falls of spring, with a full moon, and a good chance for a moon bow. This timing is early enough to miss the crowds. Yosemite Adventure May 2012 includes: Seven days in Yosemite with six nights accommodations in Yosemite West, photographic instruction, guide service, transportation from Oakland to Yosemite and back and all locations listed within the tour. Locations include all points accessible by automobile within Yosemite.

James was resident photographer in Yosemite for over twelve years, and has guided thousands of visitors throughout the park for over thirty years, including the Secretary of the Interior, the Governor of California and other dignitaries.
